

Hazel dormice and development, including licensing

This advanced course is aimed at people who have attended our 'Dormouse ecology and survey' course or are already experienced in undertaking dormouse surveys and have a good understanding of dormouse ecology. Following attendance, you should be able to design appropriate survey and mitigation strategies and successfully apply for dormouse mitigation licences.

Course content:

- Legislation, protection and planning considerations
- Impacts of development on dormice
- Licensing
- Survey requirements
- Dealing with dormice on a development site
- Mitigation, including practical measures and techniques
- A review of case studies

A course certificate will be issued following completion of a test.